Dear Samantha,

H.W. Wilson is over 100 years old and has a sterling reputation for high-quality content. We publish reference and professional tool for libraries, which are our only market. We are here to serve libraries. I am the H.W. Wilson sales manager for the entire State of Texas, including public, academic, school libraries and corporate libraries. I'm always available to answer questions and to provide help, and our tech support staff is here in my office so there are no long waits for assistance with our online materials. To see our offerings, go to www.hwwilsoninprint.com. Catalogs are shipped to all libraries but are also available by request.
